Susquehanna Art Museum's annual juried exhibition highlights gender and identity

Harrisburg, PA – The Susquehanna Art Museum is pleased to present its fourth annual juried exhibition, Identity Spectrum, which is on view in the Lobby Gallery and Vault through August 5, 2018.

From interactive video installations and collage to reimagined classical sculptural forms, the exhibition explores gender as a fundamental aspect of personal identity. As contemporary society grapples with the increasing politicization of identity, works selected for the exhibition provide unique perspectives on individual expression and the definition of gender—both visually and conceptually.

Generously sponsored by the LGBT and Allies Committee of Market Square Presbyterian Church, the exhibition includes the work of acclaimed regional and national artists. The exhibition also encourages visitors to vote for their favorite work through July 19. Both the Viewer's Choice and Juror's Choice awards will be announced July 20, during Harrisburg's monthly Third in the Burg.

This year's juror is Dr. Christine Filippone, associate professor of art history in the Department of Art and Design at Millersville University. Filippone's area of study is contemporary and 20th-century art, and she is also coordinator of the university's Women's and Gender Studies program. She has worked in curatorial departments at the Philadelphia Museum of Art, Brooklyn Museum of Art, International Center of Photography in New York City and the Nasher Museum of Art at Duke University.

Susquehanna Art Museum, located at 1401 North Third Street, Harrisburg, PA 17101, is open to the public Tuesday – Saturday from 10:00 am – 5:00 pm with extended hours on Wednesdays til 7:00 pm. Sundays: 12 noon – 5:00 pm. Free parking is available to museum-goers in the lot immediately adjacent to the rear of the museum at Calder and James Streets.
